Short Bio

Hi! My name is Taylor Kennedy. I was born in the hills of Tennessee on a hot July day. At a tender 18 years of age, I set out to sunny Orlando, Florida and then moved on to Hilton Head Island, South Carolina. It was in South Carolina that I began my modeling career, posing for a local swimsuit publication. I then made my way back home to Nashville, TN where I became a Hooter girl! I modeled for Hooters and did numerous other promotions, appearances, and charity events for Hooters. Also, I became a spokesmodel for Budweiser, the South Eastern Coaches Convention, and Reebok. Billy Hoffman cast me as his leading lady in "Big Dawg," his latest country music video. You may also have seen me in a Primecut Steakhouse TV commercial as well as a Hooters TV commercial. My next challenge was to become certified as a personal trainer. I loved training so much that I left Hooters behind to run my own personal training business, Fitness Physique. I always knew my passion was modeling but after I built TaylorKennedy.com to promote my modeling career, I discovered that I loved building and maintaining my website! I started TaylorKennedy.com a few years ago and it takes up most of my spare time these days. Please pay me a visit and send me an email! I love meeting my fans and making new cyber friends!! Hugs ~Taylor.

Long Bio

Hi! My name is Taylor Kennedy. I was born on July 16, around 5:15 in the morning. I suppose I always wanted to be a model. What young girl doesn't? Of course I dreamed of having my hair and make-up done by professionals and having my photos taken by famous photographers. I grew up in a very small town in the hills of Tennessee. I was never the popular kid at school and some of my classmates weren't afraid to let me know that. My school was so small; all the kids knew each other all the way through high school. I graduated with pretty much everyone that was in Kindergarten with me.

My brother, sister, and I grew up in a modest home. We spent many summer days making mud pies and climbing trees to keep ourselves entertained! I was a pretty good student in school. And even though I had a wild side, I didn't really know what wild was till I moved out of my small town! hehe

After graduating High School, I wasn't sure what I wanted to do with my life. I didn't think college was the right option for me at the time. So, I decided to move to Orlando, Florida. Orlando turned out to be too far from the beach, the traffic was horrific, and it was too crowded. I then decided to move to Hilton Head Island, South Carolina. Hilton Head Island is just that! It is a tiny island off the coast of South Carolina. It has that small town attitude and it's on the beach! What a paradise! I truly had a blast living in South Carolina. This is where I began my modeling career! It was so great! I would roller blade to the beach most days and have Banana Daiquiris at the Tiki Hut! However, my mother fell ill, so I moved back to Tennessee to be closer to family. I began working with Hooters after moving back to Nashville and continued that relationship for two years. I was even promoted to Head Trainer! Hehe It was my responsibility to train all the new Hooter girls! What a riot!

While at Hooters, I really got into fitness and began studying to become certified as a personal trainer. I was modeling more than ever. I loved it! After receiving my personal training certification, which was no easy task, I left Hooters behind. I started my own personal training business, Fitness Physique. Today, it continues to do very well! But, I wasn't modeling as much and I missed that terribly! While surfing the web one day, I decided to start my own Yahoo Club promoting my career. That became so popular; I thought a web site would be a really great idea too. I had many offers from big companies to build a site for me. But, I wanted to have complete control over my new web site. However, there was one small problem. I didn't know how to build web sites! So, I decided to buy a few books and teach myself. It was a long road learning web design and everything associated with this business, but I have had a great time meeting new friends and learning a ton! Today, I am very proud of the success and popularity of my web site. And more importantly, I am living my dreams! What more can a gal from the hills of Tennessee ask for?
